

A day in the life of the Jansen Clan

8:00-8:30	Get up, dressed, eat breakfast	Chores, make bed
9:00 Mom reads	Book of Virtues	It's a Jungle Out There
9:30 Math	Kids work at their own levels
9:50 Mom reads	A Child's History of the World	Our Island Story
10:15 Table work	Copy work or Journal	Response to History reading
10:30 Mom reads	Science – Burgess Bird Book or	Nature Reader
10:45 Table Work	Response to science reading	(sketch or narration)
11:00 Geography	Visualize World Geography	(learn new or review)
11:15 Latin	English from the Roots Up	Or Latin study
11:30 anything else	Poetry, logic problems,	Picture study, book making
12:15 Lunch time	Children make and clean up
1:00 Feet off the floor	Everyone on their own: read,	sleep, think, no talking/screens
2:00 unscheduled time	Outdoor play, practice music,	Crafts, Lego play, dress up
15 minutes before Dad gets home	Everyone cleans up the living area to make it ready for Dad.
6:00 Dinner	Everyone helps either set, clear,	Or do the dishes
7:30 Dad reads	A book chosen by him
8:30 Bed time

Keep in mind that this is just a sampling of what one day may look like. Also remember that there is no right or wrong way to set up your day. Whatever works best for your family is best for you. You may try several different schedules before settling on one that fits you best.

Sometimes the day needs to start with a trip to the donut shop to pick up a treat and a cup of coffee. ☺

Email me if you have any questions.
I'd love to help!
kathy@careitpatch.com

